Additional materials

The replacement of some face-to-face activities by virtual activities has left part of each partner's budget available for the creation of new materials, whose content, language and format were adapted to the local reality of each partner and the needs of the end users.

Some videos (a format not initially planned) have even been created at the request of users.

E-Learning platform updated!

The online learning platform created by Piggy Bank's partners guarantees the sustainability of the project, as all the materials created will be freely available to any user in different languages. The platform can be consulted from any device (computer, tablet or smartphone) by clicking on this link:

Learners just need to log in on the platform to enjoy the comics, escape rooms, web quests or training programmes developed while learning about different financial aspects, such as how to better manage money, how to budget effectively, how to recognize financial pitfalls, manage debts, loans, etc.

The portal will allow educators to choose appropriate materials for their target groups according to their age and knowledge level, as well as tracking the learners' progress across the tools available
